ROEY MOR SPEAKS TO FRESHMEN AND SOPHOMORES

On Wednesday, Rambam welcomed Roey Mor, a former soldier in the IDF's 890th Paratroopers Battalion, for an assembly with freshmen and sophomores. Friends of the IDF (FIDF) helped arrange the visit.

Mor told students about his unit's assignment to search homes for residents at Kibbutz Be'eri.

He also spoke about what came after his service there, including the physical therapy he went through while recovering from his injuries.

Editor's note: A special thank-you to Ethan Friedman, an FIDF Ambassador, for making this visit possible.

MR. ANDREW JOHN SPEAKS ON VETERANS DAY

On Veterans Day, the entire school had the honor of hearing from Rambam's own Mr. Andrew John, who is a veteran, about his experiences in the military and about what it means to support the military. Mr. John began by speaking about his time in the military, sharing some valuable stories and lessons from his service.

He then spoke to the purpose of the military as a tool for peace and protection. Mr. John concluded by reminding students to honor those who fight for peace without glorifying war itself. We thank Mr. John for enhancing our understanding of the day with his unique perspective and experiences.

CLASSIC FILM CLUB HEARS FROM DUSTIN HOFFMAN

On Wednesday, Rambam's Classic Film Club visited Temple Emanu-El in Manhattan to hear Dustin Hoffman discuss his new memoir, Look at Me.

Hoffman, a two-time Academy Award winner, spoke about his life and career with Ariel Levy, who co-wrote the book. Rambam junior Ezra Leider also had the chance to meet Hoffman in person.
